

Dr. Sharmin Chowdhury

Assistant Professor

Education

MA, PhD (DU)

Research Interests

Developing effective strategies for teaching English language and socio-political study of literature

Book in Progress

The Colonial Theme: A Study of The Tempest, Robinson Crusoe and Heart of Darkness

Publication(s)

"Variations in the Colonial Theme: Macaulay, Conrad and Kipling", Mohammad Murshikul Alam & Sharmin Chowdhury, International Journal of English Literature, Language & Skills, IJELLS, Vol.5 No-2, July 2016

"Pity in Conrad's Heart of Darkness", Dhaka University Studies, Vol.70 No-2, December 2013 (published in July, 2016)

"Women in Heart of Darkness", Dhaka University Studies, Vol.69 No-1, June 2012 (published in July, 2014)

"Three Romantic Dreamers in an Unromantic World", Dhaka University Studies, Vol.68 No-1, June 2011 (published in July, 2013)

"The Tempest : Foreshadowing of Colonialism" Nibandhamala (A yearly publication of Centre for Advanced Studies in Humanities, Dhaka University) Vol. 17, 2013

"Some Elementary Reflections on the Teaching of English Language in Bangladesh", Stamford Journal of English, Nol. 1, Summer, 2005

"Animals and Insects in Some Modern Novels", Dhaka University Studies, Vol.60 No-2, December 2003

"An approach to Literature", Proceedings of the First English Conference, Stamford University, 2003

Contact Details

Department of Humanities URP Building (4th Floor)
Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology
Dhaka- 1000, Bangladesh

Office Tel: Direct: 880-2-9665610
PABX: 880-2-9665650-80/Ext-7495

Email:
sharminchowdhurybd@gmail.com, sharmin_chowdhury@hum.buet.ac.bd